Heliski / Heliboarding Holiday to British Columbia Canada

Heliski Holiday represents over 25 heliski and heli-snowboarding operators. They help ski enthusiasts choose from a selection of daily heliskiing experiences at a resort location in Whistler BC or Banff Alberta to a multi-day heli-ski experience at a remote mountain lodge in the mecca of heliskiing in the province of British Columbia Canada.

Announcing the launch of Heliski Holiday, Nina Kaufman said, " We are a welcomed part of the heliskiing industry of BC Canada and virtually operate an extension of each operator always meeting the needs of the client while working in cooperation and support with each operator.

George Rosset, president of TLH Heliskiing and Last Frontier Heliskiing has this to say, "It is great that out of a passion for this highest form of skiing and snowboarding, she (Nina Kaufman) is providing the ski/snowboard enthusiasts from around the world such a personalized service".

Nina added by saying, "operators can be located in a remote mountain lodge surrounding by majestic peaks or in the heart of mountain town where guests can mingle with locals or situated in a resort setting like Whistler or Banff".

Operators with remote mountain lodges offer semi private or standard packages with pre-determined start and end dates. Generally including: satisfying meals, excellent accommodation, guide services, avalanche beacon/transceiver, powder skis and in some cases ground & air transfers from arrival city.

Private heliskiing / heliboarding holiday is the ULTIMATE in heliskiing experience. Each package is tailored by the number of people and days, schedule and can include: unlimited vertical, private chalet, use of a private helicopter, private guide, private chef, pre and post accommodation, ground and air transfers.

British Columbia pilots & heliski guides adhere to rules & regulations set by the BC Helicopter and Snowcat Skiing Operators Association and are some of best-trained professionals in the world.

The Heliski Holiday office is located in the southern portion of British Columbia allowing contact with the operators on their time.

Heliski Holidays expertise will guide you to the best all round helicopter skiing experience that is tailored to meet individual or group needs and wants
